

L@b
L@urels

Propulsion bids farewell to real life 'Rocket Man'

by Jeffrey Pearce, Propulsion Directorate

FAREWELL — The Propulsion Directorate at Edwards Research Site, Edwards AFB, Calif. recently bid farewell to CMSgt. Glenn E. Washington after 30 years of distinguished service. Washington was responsible for enlisted activities across Edwards where his troops operated and maintained high thrust rocket test stands. These test stands represent two-thirds of the nation's high thrust rocket test stands.